Historical overview. Princess Dashkova's home. The hotel is located in a historical building on Galernaya street - the oldest street in the city, near Senate Square, St. Isaac's Cathedral, Alexandrovsky Garden, New Holland, and Mariinsky theatre.

Princess Yekaterina Romanovna Dashkova was an Imperial Russian Court lady-in-waiting, namely, a Statsdame and a close friend of Empress Catherine the Great. She headed the Russian Academy of Sciences and was a major figure of the Russian Enlightenment. Dashkova was an exceptional personality in Russian history, at least because in XVIII century, women, apart from royalty, were not allowed to participate in governmental affairs.
